

Next Edition
VI/2025
September

In addition to new frigates (F126, F127) and corvettes, the German Navy requires new ship classes, including the Medium Support Floating Units (MUS) and Multi-Purpose Combat Boats for the Sea Battalion and the Naval Special Forces Command. The changing and increased threat potential means that the surface fleet relies on the rapid availability of these new ship classes. (Photo: TKMS)

Army:

- Joint Fire Support
- Counter-Drone

Air Force:

- Persistent German Airborne Surveillance System (PEGASUS)
- Heavy Lift Transport Helicopter (STH)

Navy:

- Interview: Flotilla Admiral Christian Walter Meyer, Commander Operational Flotilla 1
- Navy 2035+
- F127 Frigate
- MUS Medium Support Floating Units

Support Command Bundeswehr:

- Impact of the General Safety Regulation on Bundeswehr Service Vehicles

Cyber Command:

- Centre for Bundeswehr Digitalisation and Cyber and Information Service Capability Development

Reservation Deadline:
01 September 2025

Copy Deadline:
10 September 2025

Publication Date:
18 September 2025

Bonus Distribution:

DWT Marineforum

Linstow, Germany
22– 24 September 2025